

Faster is better for talent acquisition.

People are your company's most valuable asset.

In a fast-moving, highly competitive talent market, you have to move fast if you want to attract the best.

E-signatures are your secret weapon. According to an Aberdeen report, HR departments that use e-signatures onboard new employees 4x faster than their competition.

The faster you can onboard talent, the faster they can get to work—and the faster you start seeing a return on your investment.

Maximize efficiency.

Speed up every HR process with end-to-end experiences that are intuitive, quick, and scalable across teams and departments.

Send multiple e-sign requests at once.

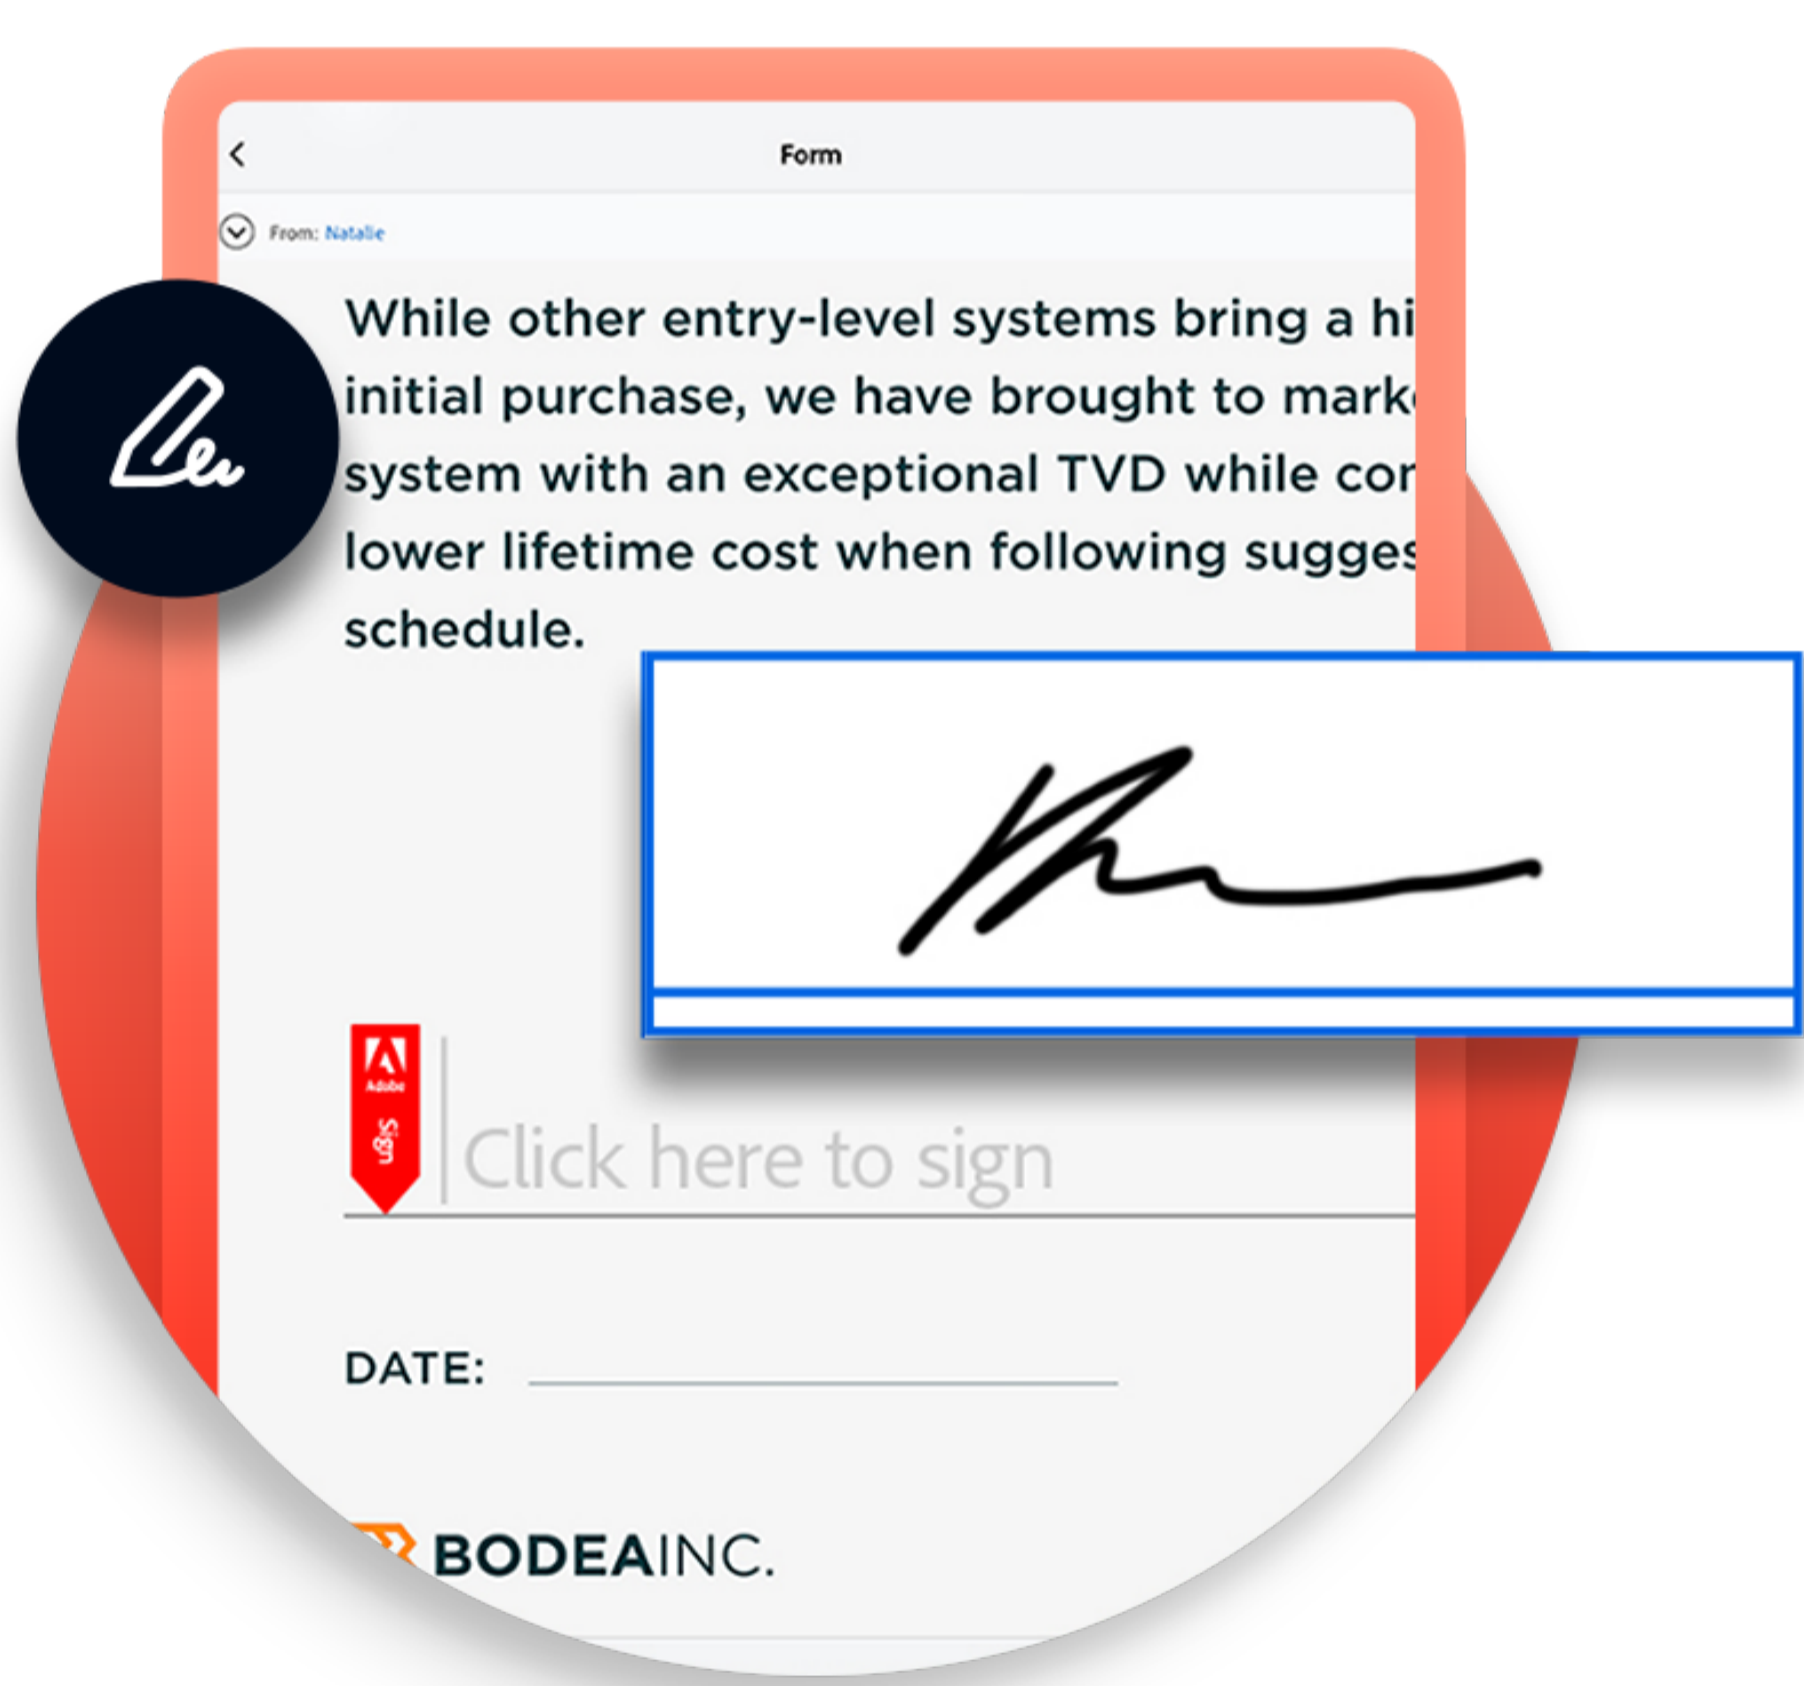

Create reusable templates.

Transform digital documents into automated signing and approval workflows.

E-signatures can increase employee productivity by 70%
